Each year over 20 million people globally are displaced from their homes by floods, storms, droughts, wildfires and other extreme weather events due to climate change. Over 200 million people may be displaced by the impacts of climate change by 2050. This webinar will review current science on the relationship between environmental change and migration and identifies pathways for action to avoid worst case scenarios. We are privileged to welcome Canadian Dr. Robert McLeman as our guest presenter.
