

Breakout Class Options

Deerhaven Service Project Caretaker Rob Tillis will lead the group in a project to help with the care and beauty of Deerhaven. Come enjoy transforming a piece of Deerhaven.

Flavors of God with Imari Dantzler will be an optional class during free time on Saturday evening. Just as ice cream comes in many different flavors, people vary in race, age, gender, background, personality and approaches to worship. Yet what makes us unique is special to God.

Homeopathy for First Aid will be led by High Priest Cindy Campbell. Come and learn what homeopathy is and how it can boost your body's immune system. Learn ways to help speed healing with first aid issues like bruises, sports injuries, burns, poison ivy, insect bites, over-eating, earaches, colds, flu and more. Best of all, you can add these inexpensive tools to your medicine kit at home.

Organized Recreation will allow time for outside activity, flexing your muscles, canoeing, and showing off your skills.

Tie Dye will be led by Megan Chlebina. Bring your own t-shirt, handkerchief, sheet, or other item to transform with one of many simple tie dye techniques. Have fun being creative and jazzing up your item from home!

Wildlife Hike Join Mike Barnett on a nature walk to explore the flora and fauna in and around Deerhaven Campgrounds. Come learn about the wild things and a few more reasons why the grounds are so valuable and special!

Woodworking will be taught by Rick Schwartz. Learn to create something special using tools and techniques for working with wood.
